Decarboxylation

Method: Sous vide

Temperature: 203°F

Time: 100 minutes

Notes: Sealed glass mason jar

Infusion

Method: Direct addition

Medium: Mct oil, 10g

Temperature: 203°F

Time: 240 minutes

Notes: Just set the jar back into the sous vide water while you mix in the MCT oil to get it blended well. I only used 10g of MCT oil.

Ingredients

1. 10oz Ghirardelli Milk Chocolate
2. Candy Molds
3. Oil from infusion

Equipment & Tools

- Sous Vide

Instructions

For all steps: Massage and mix occasionally during all of this.

1. Pour oil over chocolate in sous vide bag and seal.
2. Heat chocolate and oil to 115F for 30 minutes.
3. Drain/exchange water/add ice to drop the bath temp to 81F and massage the bag.
4. Once at 81F, set Sous Vide temp to 90.
5. Once at 90, let it hold for at least 30 minutes (if you don't it will come out grainy).
6. Snip corner, pipe into chocolate molds.

Tips:

1. If you run out of mold space you can put the chocolate back into the bath (just don't get water in it).
2. If you have little bits that solidified while you waited for the others to finish, you can microwave the sous vide bag VERY quickly in 10 second bursts to remelt what's in the bag to make it easier to work with.
